“ The Soto family showed me what a family was when I was growing up. I have so many beautiful memories at Angie's house. I will never forget the day she told me to call her Grandma Angie because I would call her Mrs. Soto. So many years have past since I've seen her and she didn't know that when I visit carp I drive by Malibu St. just to see her house and wave. She knows now! I'm forever grateful for the stories she shared and her teaching me to make enchiladas her way. I still make her enchiladas with flour tortillas and olives and call them "Grandma Angie's Enchiladas"

“ I will always remember Tia Angie as being so loving and caring, and that big smile with dimples. When I would call and asked how she was doing she would respond she was as "ornery as ever". I spent a lot of time with Tio and my cousins also in Carp, Truly remember the openness and caring attitude for family and friends which were plentiful. You will be missed Tia but definitely not forgotten as your love and affection were contagious as evidences by the many you touched. God Bless you.
