“ Carol was a bright light, and an important part of my life during the time that she was pursuing her Masters and Doctorate. I recall that she had hurt her back and taken to swimming. Carol was supportive, warm and a compassionate person who will be missed. Although we were no longer in touch later in life, I was sure our paths would cross again. I extend my condolences to her family as her passing must be a great loss to them and her close friends.
Sincerely,
John R. Van Plantinga Jr.
