

Corado A. Reginatto

March 13, 1921 - January 5, 2012

REGINATTO, Corado

At 90 years old Corado died unexpectedly on Thursday, January 5th, 2012.

The youngest of six, he was born and lived his entire life in Santa Barbara. He was baptized at St. Barbara Parish, Old Mission, where he devoted his time serving in many capacities after the passing of LaVerne, his wife of 47 years in 1997.

Corado was a certified high pressure pipe welder and veteran of WWII with four years in the Navy at Pearl Harbor, HI, assisting with the repair of the U.S. Naval fleet.

For more than 50 years, Corado worked with two brothers in the Reginatto Bros. business. He especially enjoyed get togethers with family and friends, and fishing in Alaska.

Corado was a very independent, hard working, and well-respected man, selflessly and tirelessly dedicating his life to providing for his family and helping others.

He lived by the prayer of St. Francis and leaves a wonderful legacy of giving strength, comfort and joy to everyone he knew. He will be remembered for his determination, sense of responsibility, and truly loving, kind and sweet nature.

Corado is survived by his children Mark Reginatto and Karen Vari, and their spouses, children and grandchildren.

A viewing will be held Thursday, Jan. 12, 1-8pm at Welch-Ryce-Haider downtown Chapel. The funeral service will be Friday, Jan. 13, 10am at St. Barbara, Parish, Old Mission, followed by a blessing of the ground at Calvary Cemetery. Memorial donations may be made to a charity of choice.

“ My daughter, Caroline, and I enjoyed seeing Corado each week at mass. He knew Caroline when she was just born, and I would attend mass with her. What a great, kind man! He will be missed. - Kate Kramer
