“ He changed my life. Thank you Mr. Petrini for being that adult who cared. An amazing teacher inside the classroom, he was also a teacher for everyone through his life showing real kindness and compassion.

I remember specifically going through a really bad time in my life and almost crying in class. Mr. Petrini then sat outside with me, concerned, asking what was wrong. That moment, gesture of care and those words meant so much I felt it changed my life and is one of the top ten pivotal moments I'll never forget. Because of it I kept going and actually tried to reach out to him a few years ago to tell him what an impact he had on my life and what I do now.

When I write about being a “caring adult” in the description for my non profit this is the person and that is the moment I think about.

“ Being one of seven siblings, Uncle Jerry has 29 nieces and nephews. Not only do us cousins have fond memories of Uncle Jerry, but so do many of our kids. Uncle Jerry was a fixture at almost every family reunion since the very first long ago, and his smiles and laughter were so natural it seemed to be how he breathed. His quick wit always amazed me!

Ginny, you and Uncle Jerry fit hand in glove as an amazing couple. I still remember your wedding day and how happy Uncle Jerry was to have you in his life.

We love you, Uncle Jerry, and will miss you.

Much love,

Rick

“ I remember a conversation while drinking wine at John's house, (unusual I know) at a pizza party sitting around my uncles and aunts. Uncle Jerry and the rest of the family were entertaining us with stories of the past. The one that made us all laugh was the story about his experience with a potential girlfriend at school and setting up a date to sneak off to a "closet" at the school in anticipation of potential shenanigans. They were both so nervous they spent their secret tryst talking of baseball games. He also spoke of never touching hot chili peppers and not washing your hands, as that can prove irritating if needing to use the bathroom. He always had a smile and a joke to light up our lives. Ginny, We all know you are heartbroken, but you were the best thing to happen in his life, and so lucky to have the time you did. Love to all, Joanne and Terry

“ Jerry was our neighbor and friend for almost 37 years. He was a warm, kind, and hospitable man. For many years, Jerry and his lovely wife Ginny welcomed us to share Thanksgiving with their family and friends. We will forever cherish those wonderful memories.

“ I remember a cross-country trip I was able to take when I was younger with Uncle Jerry (and others) where we stopped at Mt. Rushmore, Wall Drug, Corn Palace, etc. Still is one of the favorite trips I've ever been on.
