

Janice Roffoni

April 17, 1938 - August 11, 2014

Janice Roffoni 76, died unexpectedly in her home in Santa Barbara, California on August 6, 2014. Janice was born and raised in San Francisco where she attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart, and U.C. Berkeley. She married John A. Roffoni in 1958 and taught school while he was stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky. They settled in Santa Maria, California where she resided until she moved to Santa Barbara in 1989.

Janice travelled the world spending extended periods of time in Europe, Africa and Asia. There was nothing she enjoyed more than traveling with family and friends. Her enthusiasm for new experiences and cultures was shared with all who had the good fortune to travel with her.

Janice always had a ready laugh and humorous story to share. Her passing is an enormous loss to all who knew her and she will be deeply missed by friends and family, especially her three children John J. Roffoni, of Santa Barbara, Dierdre Roffoni of Beverly Hills, Maureen Roffoni of New York City and her four adored grandchildren Denia, Davis, Anna Graham and Edie Roffoni.

She was preceded in death by her parents Edie and James O'Donnell of San Francisco.
