

Joan "Jody" Joyce Lane

September 6, 1931 - June 18, 2012

Jody Lane passed away in her sleep June 18, 2012 after a yearlong illness. Jody was born, in Weed, New Mexico on 6 September 1931 as one of six children born to William and Florence Campbell. In 1942, the Campbell's moved to Santa Barbara, California, where Jody would remain for the majority of rest of her life. She attended local schools including the Harding School and Santa Barbara High School, later working 16 years for Washburn Chevrolet on Chapala Street from 1961 to 1977. She was also a long time member of the Santa Barbara Elks Club. Jody married twice over her years; first to Lou Meraviglia, and later to Clarence Lane. Both of her spouses have preceded her in death.

Jody leaves behind her siblings, Gilbert Campbell, Norma Pressly, and Marilyn Pelot; many nieces and nephews spanning from Redding, and Seal Beach, California to New York; her son, Charlie and his wife Lynda; two grandchildren, Charlyna and Austin, and a step daughter, Roberta. Jody is also survived by her long time friend and companion, Ron Anderson.

"My mom was known for speaking her mind to friends and family. Some may say Heaven doesn't want her, but what we know for sure that Hell is afraid of her." Jody was a great mother and grandma and will be sorely missed by all who knew her.
