“ Matt,

I remember putting together your first bike before you could rock a clutch. I remember doin wheelies down the canyon on your pit bike. We went on some sick ass rides together brother. I know I've never caught more fish then when I was with you. You taught me to fish. I remember learning to weld together on my dads old tanks. I remember your mom wanting to kick are ass for welding in the garage and popping circuits. We sure threw some shitty welds but you stuck through it. I'm so proud you went to college and fulfilled your quest. Plus you got your house g!!! I've called you crying about my girlfriend, just for a cigarette, to rescue me outta town, or just to shoot the shit. Real talk, through the thick and the thin, you were always there, no matter what, no matter what time. You were the realist, most brutally honest, gentle-giant I've ever met. I had some of the best times with you big homie. Till we meet again brother, Ride In Peace.....#DynaHoForever

“ I only knew you a couple years big guy but you grew on me. Glad we spent time together fishing , hanging out at Jakes and working on your house. My favorite memory is from one of the bbq's at Jake and Ruthies. You called and said you were cooking and I said " In that case I want my own Tri-tip" You said ok and did it. When I got there you told everybody that ones Freds! That meant something to me. Or the video of Cody finbombing you with a carp! Our time was short but it was fun. You were a good friend and I will miss you. Love you Matt.

“ *Matt,
Nothing will be the same without you but I wish you peace and happiness. You have been family for years and we will all miss you dearly; Jake will miss his best friend, the kids will miss their uncle Matt, and I'm going to miss my friend. Family bbq will never be the same but I want you to know we will always make a plate for you and hopefully you don't object to how the meat is cooked; you will always be the best! I've cried a lot the last few days thinking of your big smile, silly laugh, the hat you never washed, making jokes, babysitting adventures and so much more. You are forever in my heart, we love you Matt.*
