Vivian and Ray raised their two children in Santa Barbara and enjoyed active social lives. Vivian worked as a secretary for most of her life, serving Santa Barbara Children's Home Society, the County of Santa Barbara and Montecito Sanitary District. She was also an accomplished seamstress who loved to use her skills to create beautiful personalized items for her family and numerous friends. Vivian and Ray relocated to Huntington Beach for several years, and returned to Santa Barbara after their retirement in 1983.

The Tognis had a passion for life and were always surrounded by friends. Their rich and spirited lifestyle included travels to Mexico, the Caribbean, and Central and North America, hiking with their dog Dylan, and their active involvement with the Santa Barbara Lawn Bowling Club for many years.

Predeceased by Ray in 2004, Vivian is survived by her children, Chandra and Craig, grandson Jesse Buglione and his wife Melissa, great-great grandson Tanner, and several nieces and a nephew. Vivian will always be remembered for her grace, dignity and kindness, and will be greatly missed by the many people whose lives she had touched.
